Miss Watson—Did Mr. Sark say to you you as I entered the drawing room last night, Clara: "Is that the beautiful Miss Watson?"

Clara—Yes, dear, with the accent on the "that."

"He is a man of few words."

"Yes, and they are: 'What is there in it for me?'"—Detroit Free Press.

There are five kinds of taxes levied in Holland, as follows: Government tax, including business and income tax, and capital tax; city income tax and provincial tax.

Young Wife—Don't you admire a man who always says the right thing at the right time?

The Spinster—I'm sure I could if I ever have the pleasure of meeting such a man.—Illustrated Bits.

The government of Bombay is urging the natives to plant tapioca in place of rice to prevent the famines due to drouth, as it is not so dependent upon moisture for its growth as is the grain.

Teacher—What is the application of the Golden Rule?

Schoolboy—Dunno, but it must be Gerce.—Bohemian Magazine.

Although Great Britain produced more coal than the United States 10 years ago, the production of the latter country is now 60 per cent more than that of its former rival. In fact, two-fifths of the world's production is now accredited to the United States.

Dill—Has your wife a recipe for removing spots from clothing?

Pickle—I should say she had! She removed two five-spots from my trousers pocket with quietness and dispatch last night.—Judge.

Tom—I ate some of the cake she made just to make myself solid.

Dick—Did you succeed?

Tom—I couldn't feel any more solid if I eaten concrete or building stone.—Utica Herald.

A substitute for marble which answers many of its purposes satisfactorily is made of a mixture of blast-furnace slag and lime, pulverized, compressed and then treated with carbonic acid.

"Nature plans well for mankind."

"How so?"

"Gives the men ears fine for hanging spectacles over and the ladies tresses suitable for pinning hats to."—Kansas City Journal.

Every time you spend a dollar at a railroad ticket office or freight office, you pay 50 cents for employees' wages.

Poorly Paid for Great Work.

Oliver Goldsmith was an underpaid man from start to finish. Fifty pounds ($250) for "The Vicar of Wakefield" was bad enough, yet for "The Traveller" he got but $20 ($100) and $5 ($25) for his "English Grammar." For "The Deserted Village," however, his publisher sent him 100 guineas ($500). This he at once returned, with the message: "It is too much; it is near five shillings a couple, which is more than any bookseller can afford or, indeed, any modern poetry is worth." So he died with $10,000 worth of debts. "Was ever poet so trusted before?" said Dr. Johnson.

How We Learn.

Art is long, life short, judgment difficult, occasion transient. To act is easy, to think is hard; to act according to our thought is troublesome. Every beginning is cheerful; the threshold is the place of expectation. The boy stands astonished, his impressions guide him; he learns sportfully, seriousness come on him by surprise. Imitation is born with us; what should he imitate is not easy to discover. The excellent is rarely found, more rarely valued. The height charms us, the steps to it do not; with the summit in our eye, we love to walk along the plain.—Goethe.

Novel Kite Game.

The manner in which kites can be manipulated is well illustrated by the game of Vakata. This game is best played with squads of ten or less a side equipped with ordinary Indian kites of tissue paper and reels like dumbbells.

The game is to fly your kite so that it cuts the string of an opponent's kite by sawing it, rescues being effected by Red Cross kites so manipulated that they get underneath and pick up the falling kite.

Telepathic Warnings.

"You are so telepathic," said the girl to her hostess, "did you have any premonition of our coming up here to see you?"

"I remember having several awful nightmares," the woman said.

The Wife—It is the duty of every married man to make his home happy.

The Maid—But suppose he is unable to do it?

The Wife—Oh, he can do it, all right—even if he has to stay away from it.—Chicago News.
